Twenty years ago June 28th, Gavillo Principi killed Archduke Ferdinand of Austria, at Sarajevo; and from that one shot there resulted the death, wounding or maiming of 25,000,000 men and the re-mapping of Europe.

Dr. and Mrs. Bell and family, of Edmonton, registered at the Greenhill hotel last night. Dr. Bell will be remembered by many of the old-timers of Passburg and Bellevue, where he practiced medicine many years ago.

ALBERTA'S NEW CABINET LINEUP

Alberta's new cabinet, with Hon. R. G. Reid as premier, was sworn in before Lieutenant-Governor W. L. Walsh at Edmonton on Tuesday as follows:
Premier and provincial secretary—Hon. R. G. Reid.
Minister of public works—Hon. J. J. MacLellan.
Provincial treasurer—Hon. J. Rossell Love.
Minister of lands and mines and municipal affairs—Hon. Hugh W. Allen.
Minister of health and telephones—Hon. George Headley.
Minister of agriculture—Hon. F. S. Geisdale.
Minister of education—Hon. Perren Baker.
Attorney-general—Hon. J. F. Lymburn.
Minister without portfolio—Hon. Irene Paribby.

The editor of a poultry journal received a letter from a woman reader. It read: "How long should a hen remain on the eggs?" The editor replied: "Three weeks for chickens and four weeks for ducks." Three weeks passed, and the editor again received a letter from the reader. "Thank you very much for your kind advice," it read. "The hen remained on the eggs for three weeks, and there were no chickens hatched; and, as I did not care for ducks, I took her off the nest and sold the eggs."

VICTORIA STREET RECEIVING BADLY-NEEDED IMPROVEMENT

During the week, through the influence of the town council, a decided effort has been made towards improving our main thoroughfare through the town, Victoria Street, which covers about two miles of what is regarded as the main highway through the Crow's Nest Pass.
Starting on Monday with a government grader-scarifier outfit, at least four blocks' length of the street has been placed in excellent repair and covered with a reasonable coating of crushed rock.
By the end of this week we may hope forward to seeing one of the most-surfaced town main streets in Alberta.

A sprinkling system being urgently desired to help keep down the dust, we may state that the town council has in view a plan which they hope to open operate, far more economically than the outclassed water wagon. This system will come into effect, provided the government will meet the council half-way in their effort.

RAILWAYS REPORT BIGGER BUSINESS

Winnipeg, Man., July 9.—The Dominion Day week-end produced the heaviest period of rail travel veteran railway officials ever remember, according to officials of the Canadian National Railways. Not only was the travel to the adjacent beaches heavy, but the transcontinental trains were operating in two and three sections to handle the passengers. "We had to get out equipment we thought would not be needed for a long time and every sleeping and dining car available was pressed into service. Every porter we could find had a job and many others were taken back into service," declared one of the officials. It was just like old times with the Union Station filled with a milling pleasant crowd of incoming and outgoing passengers.

The marriage of Eleanor Cecile, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Picard, of Blairmore, to Hermie, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Brunning, of Stettler, will take place in Stettler on Saturday, July 14th, at 2 p.m.

A. F. Mahew, one of a number of men concerned in the theft of some articles from the Gaetz-Cornett store on the Saturday before Labor Day, came before Magistrate E. H. Jones, K.C., on Tuesday. When he appeared before Mr. Jones on October 3, 1933, the Magistrate dealt leniently with him and he was bound over for twelve months on condition that he reported once a month to the Red Deer police, and that he paid the costs of the case, about $4.50. Chief Spence testified that he had received one letter from him since October, and that the costs had not been paid. The Magistrate sentenced him to six months at the Fort—Red Deer Advocate.

Advertising in any fly sheet carries absolutely no guarantee, while the local newspaper can and will guarantee 100 per cent of its circulation. Too many local district merchants are being made believe otherwise today. The local newspaper is here for a purpose—not so much to beg for advertising patronage as to guarantee that the district is being covered by all the worthwhile news available—therefore we do not beg. Our space as a commodity is here for the purchaser, just as much as is any commodity in a local general store; and in this connection we have to do so and always will advocate patronage of a local store that appreciates the advantages and importance of local support. Our subscription lists represent 100 per cent circulation, and our lists are open to inspection and any contradiction.

BELLEVUE BOY KILLED

A sad accident occurred at the Lundbreck railway crossing yesterday, when Milton Danysh, a Bellevue boy, who had been riding a freight train, attempted to jump from the moving train at the crossing and was dragged under the wheels, his body being literally cut in half.

Danysh was armed with fishing tackle, and evidently intended to try his luck in the river near Lundbreck.

The remains were brought to Bellevue and later to Blairmore, where an inquest is being conducted today. The jury impaneled, Messrs. T. Duncan, Thomas Jones, S. Knappman, J. A. McDonald, George Lang and R. Jamieson, viewed the remains this morning. Among the witnesses called were the train crew, including Archie Moe, of Lethbridge, formerly of Frank. The jury's verdict will likely be announced this afternoon. Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

The boy was twenty-one years of age and but recently passed through high school with honors. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Danysh, and a young sister, with whom general sympathy is extended.

BLAIRMORE PUBLIC LIBRARY

During the months of July and August the library will be open on Thursday nights only, each week, hours 7 to 9 p.m.

HOLLYWOOD AND ALBERTA.

Whilst certain religious organizations are demanding a cleaner line of motion pictures, Edmonton supplied the world with the most putrid line of tripe ever unloaded on an enlightened public. Nothing ever came out of Hollywood which could compare with that originating in the capital city of Alberta. The Edmonton case as it appeared in print was shocking in the extreme even to a case-hardened sinner. The Canadian Press, in reporting the Edmonton case, bared every gory detail. The impression left on the minds of the youth of the land from reading the details of the case will prove infinitely worse than anything Hollywood can produce in the next twelve months.—Cranbrook Courier.

P. Ashley Cooper, of London, England, governor of The Hudson Bay Company, who recently visited Newfoundland, states that he found conditions there considerably improved under the new system of government.

Accustomed as is Great Britain to meet difficulties in a broad, thoroughgoing way, the Newfoundlanders are now told that the country's adverse trade balance of the past year, amounting to $2,192,500, will be wiped out completely as a direct gift from Britain to Newfoundland.

Thomas B. Halliwell, father of Editor H. T. Halliwell, of the Coleman Journal, died at London, Ontario, on July the 3rd in his 77th year. He is survived by two sons, H. T. and Sidney J., the latter residing at Harpenden, Herts. Four other sons were killed or died as a result of war service.

Farmers of the Castle River district are out en masse in an endeavor to assure good roads from all directions to the big stampede next Wednesday. Men, teams and grader are at work on that section of the road between Lee Lake and the Larmour corner, where a veritable pack trail is being converted into almost a modern highway. Bad turns and grades are being eliminated, and every effort is being made to urge traffic from the Pass and the prairies to come in via Burnis. At the stampede grounds a gang of men have been working daily, and everything will be in readiness for a first-class event on July the 18th.

BLAIRMORE FOOTBALL CLUB

The Blairmore Football Club draw took place in the Rex Cafe on Thursday, July 5th. The committee wish to thank all merchants who kindly donated prizes and helped to make it a success. GEO. LINN, Sec. B.F.C.

The barber had cut him, nicked him and gashed him. "Give me a glass of water, please," gasped the victim. "You aren't going to faint, I hope," said the barber in alarm. "No," replied the victim; "I just want to see if my mouth will hold water."

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bennett had a narrow escape from drowning in the river near the Iron Works a few days ago. The prompt response of Harvey Wheatcroft to cries for help probably saved the girl's life.

Musie is to be an added subject for pupils of the Frank, Coleman, Hillcrest, Bellevue and Blairmore schools henceforward. One qualified teacher will be engaged to serve the five schools. A government grant will be secured and all the five districts will subscribe to the added cost, which will not be high.

FRANCE DENIES HAVING PLOTTED AGAINST HITLER

Berlin—France, through her ambassador here, formally and vigorously denied she was involved in the plot against Chancellor Adolf Hitler's government which was broken up by the weekend executions.

The denial was given out and it was stated a formal protest will be made to the German government after the Nazi press had accused the late General Kurt von Schleicher of having dealings with France.

The killing of Von Schleicher, who in 1932 was chancellor for 58 days, was justified, the newspapers insisted, on the basis of "the heinous crime of entering into negotiations with France, thereby giving the idea to Paris that the Nazi system is not going to last."

French Ambassador Andre Francois-Poncet branded the charge an "absurd fable," and protested strongly against the "great prominence" given to the story by German newspapers.

Hitler had accused some of the plotters of negotiating with a "foreign power" and there was much speculation as to what country was meant.

The German newspapers' story accused Von Schleicher, one of those executed by Hitler's men, of having dealings with France while he was chancellor in 1932.

French Foreign Minister Louis Barthou was accused of revealing the Von Schleicher plot to the British at Geneva, May 30.

"Hitler's days are numbered," Barthou was represented as saying. In addition to the French envoy, the British and American ambassadors have called at the foreign office.

Meanwhile, it was revealed by officials of the Nazi party that Chancellor Hitler's private army of 2,000-000 storm troopers, among whose leaders the shots of firing squads fell thick and fast, is doomed.

These officials confirmed reports that after the July vacations the place of storm troopers in German life will be greatly changed, indicating less than 20 per cent. of the men will be retained.

Further Arrests Ordered

Revolution in Germany Said To Be By No Means Over

Vienna.—The arrest, under order of Chancellor Adolf Hitler of three reich cabinet ministers, including Eitz Von Ruebenach, was reported from Munich by telegraph.

Persistent reports that the "second revolution" was by no means over were brought here by Austrian Legionnaires fleeing from Bavaria. They said they understood nearly 3,000 storm troop chiefs had been arrested.

Travelers said a "revolutionary committee," composed of the friends and relatives of the executed storm troop chief of staff, Ernst Roehm, and Berlin-Brandenburg Leader Karl Ernst, had been formed in Munich.

"Dalworth" Due In August

Will Sail From England For Churchill July 28

Regina.—The plot will hail the freighter "Dalworth," of the Dalgleish line, about August 13 when she noses into the icy waters of Churchill, Manitoba, to unload cargo from Europe and to take on Canadian merchandise and grain for the return.

Posters state that the "Dalworth" will sail from River Tyne, England, ports July 25 and from Antwerp, Belgium, July 28.

The "Dalworth" is expected to be the first ship into Churchill this year. If cargoes are offered other Dalgleish line freighters will call.

Pleased With Decision

London.—Lord Londale, baron of sports, congratulated Tex Austin, promoter of the rodeo now being produced in London, on his court victory against the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The society had charged Austin with cruelty to steers used in the show.

Ask Tariff Reduction

Ottawa.—Application for reduction in the British preferential duty on boots and shoes from 25 per cent. to 15 per cent. was made before the tariff board by the Incorporated Footwear Association of Boot and Shoe Manufacturers of the United Kingdom.

Starts Insurance Plan

Fund For Unemployed Being Tried Out In Wisconsin

Madison, Wis.—Wisconsin is watching progress of its latest social experiment—unemployment insurance.

The compulsory law became effective July 1. Every Wisconsin employer, who has given work to at least 10 persons for 15 weeks must make contributions to the insurance fund, and employers may submit voluntary plans which, if approved by the industrial commission, may be used in place of the compulsory act.

Until the fund amounts to $35 reserve per employee the premium under the act will be two per cent. of the payroll. When it amounted to $55 but less than $75 reserve the rate will be one per cent.; and when $75 or more contributions will cease unless the employer desires to provide more adequate reserves for his men.

Will Not Change Policies

Japanese Foreign Policies Will Not Undergo Radical Change

Tokyo.—Assurance that Japan's fundamental naval, military and foreign policies will not undergo radical changes were given in official quarters as newly appointed Premier Admiral Kelmuke Okada sought to construct his cabinet.

Koki Hirota accepted reappointment as foreign minister. There was also assurance that two ministers of the old Saito cabinet, General Hayashi of the war department, and Momei Osumi, minister of marine, will be continued in their posts in the new cabinet.

The vernacular newspapers stated that naval leaders were displeased with the selection of Okada as premier. They regard him lukewarm to many of their policies.

Victim Of Heart Seizure

Wife Of Hon. Robert Rogers Dies In Winnipeg

Winnipeg.—Mrs. Aurelia Regina Rogers, 68, wife of Hon. Robert Rogers, of Grey County, Ontario, died suddenly after a heart seizure.

The wife of the former Dominion cabinet minister had only recently returned from Ottawa following the winding up of the parliamentary session.

She recently was prominently mentioned as a possible appointee to the senate.

Before her marriage Mrs. Rogers was Miss Aurelia Regina Widmeyer, of Grey County, Ontario. She was married in 1888 and is survived by her husband and one son, Robert G. Winnipeg.

Storm Causes Damage

Terrific Wind Carried House More Than A Mile

Troquois Falls, Ont.—Reports reaching here said a terrific windstorm that struck the settlement of Norwamba carried a house more than a mile and lifted three men 25 feet in the air.

A steel transmission tower, carrying power for the Abitibi Power and Paper Company, was twisted and torn. The line was put out of commission. None of the three men who were carried aloft by force of the wind was badly hurt.

House Warned By Baldwin

London.—Stanley Baldwin, lord president of the council, told the House of Commons that international political conditions are so serious that it is imperative for the 1935 naval conference to "achieve some end."

Pension Plan For Workers

Committee Has Approved Canadian National's New Project

Montreal.—A joint committee of company officers and representatives of employees has approved a new pensions plan for Canadian National Railway employees to take effect Jan. 1, 1935. It is announced in the Canadian National Railway magazine.

The new plan, which has a contributor provision in addition to providing basic and service pensions on retirement at 65 years, covers all employees of the company except those under the Inter-colonial railway and Prince Edward Island employees provident fund and the Grand Trunk superannuation and provident fund. Employees in the L.C.R. and P.E.I. funds are expected to be given the option of coming under the new plan.

Minimum basic subsistence pension will be granted to each employee solely at the expense of the company. This may be supplemented by joint contributions by the company and by the employee. An employee may contribute from one to 10 per cent. of his salary after 10 years' service. Up to and including five per cent. the company will match the employee's contribution.

The pension regulations are to be administered by a board of seven members, four of whom will represent the company and three the employees.

WESTERN FARM AREAS BENEFITED BY HEAVY RAINS

Ottawa.—A further improvement in prairie crop conditions occurred during the past week according to a crop report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics.

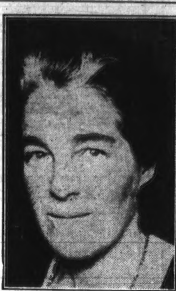

Precipitation was fairly general over the farming districts and unusually heavy in some localities, the report stated.

The areas which benefited most were northern and eastern Manitoba, crop districts of central and northern Saskatchewan and the Alberta districts south of Calgary and between Calgary and Edmonton.

Eighteen points had precipitation during the week of over an inch, with Prince Albert, Sask., registering 3.1 inches. Unfortunately, the precipitation fell as hail in scattered areas of all three provinces and severe damage was caused to promising crops. The affected districts were in northeastern Manitoba, central Saskatchewan and south-western and west-central Alberta.

"Since the first sown wheat crops are now headed and most of the remainder in the shot blade, there are indications of an early harvest, except in central and northern Alberta," the report stated. "In these latter areas growth has been slow and warm weather is needed. Grasshoppers are being kept under good control by the poisoning campaign and the favorable weather. The feed situation has been greatly changed by June rains and while hay is generally a light crop, late pasture growth will be a helpful supplement." Saskatchewan crops made fair progress during the week. The heavy rains caused a further improvement in the feed situation. Even where cereal crops were too far gone to recover. Uneven stands of grain on stubble land are reported as a consequence of delayed germination. No serious grasshopper damage is reported.

BRITAIN'S STATESWOMAN

History was made at Geneva recently—and by a woman. She is Mrs. Corbett Ashby, above, who was the lone representative of Britain at the General Commission of the Disarmament Conference. Never before has a woman been a great power's only delegate. While the Conference was discussing security, Mrs. Corbett Ashby declared that Great Britain could not take part in any security pact outside her Locarno commitments.

Automobile Exports

Canadian Cars Are Being Shipped To South Africa

Ottawa.—Some improvement has been noted in the export trade of Canadian automobiles to the United Kingdom recently and a very substantial improvement in the trade to South Africa, officials of the department of trade and commerce stated here. The development has been particularly noticeable during the past few weeks.

The demand from South Africa is due to the improved economic conditions in that country because of the high price of gold. The departmental advice is that the entire shipping space immediately available has been contracted.

The reason Canadian cars are playing so important a part in the trade with South Africa is said to be based on understanding between certain United States parent companies and Canadian subsidiaries giving the latter the South African market.

Silver Cargo

Shipment Valued At $405,000 Consigned To New York

Vancouver.—A shipment of silver, valued at $405,000, which has been teetering between Shanghai and New York, had been definitely consigned to New York and was being loaded here on board the freighter Pacific Shipper for forwarding via the Panama canal.

The shipment arrived here June 20 on the Ym. res. of Japan and was presumed in local circles to be the one referred to by Secretary Henry Morgenthau of the United States treasury when he declared the sudden clamping down of the silver export embargo in that country was due to information that international speculators were making large profits to indefinite foreign destinations. He cited one shipment labelled "Shanghai to Vancouver and return."

Start Journey Through Rockies

Edmonton.—With over 15 tons of equipment, fuel and supplies, the Bedaux tractor expedition left Edmonton Friday, June 29, on the first leg of their journey through the Rocky Mountains.

Policy Will Be Changed

United States Is Dropping Control Over Its Livestock

Washington.—Circumstances alter cases for the United States agricultural adjustment administration, which is planning broad changes in its policies.

Such strokes of nature as the drought are helping re-shape the farm administration campaign. The program next year is expected to call for:

Abandonment of control over livestock production.

One reduction contract to cover all feed grains named in the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

Continuation of the wheat and cotton reduction programs, allowing increased production over this year's figures.

A plan for storing grain on farms, possibly under government seal.

Officially believe regulation of the feed supplies will automatically control raising of animals.

Avoid Trade War

Great Britain And Germany Sign Agreement

London.—Great Britain and Germany avoided a trade war for at least six months by signing an agreement providing for the payment of interest on Dawes and Young loan bonds held by British subjects.

The agreement extends six months from July 1, the day the German moratorium on all foreign obligations became effective. Other long and medium term obligations held in Great Britain which are mostly commercial, will not be serviced during the moratorium, under the terms of the agreement.

Germany agreed to deposit British currency in the Bank of England for payment of all coupons from Dawes and Young loan bonds.

In return, Britain will not apply the new clearing house law, under which the government would have been able to seize a portion of German commercial funds for the benefit of bondholders.

LEVY PLAN FOR MEAT IMPORTS IS NOT FAVORED

London.—An import levy plan involving a guaranteed price, restriction of imports from both the Dominions and foreign countries with a preference for the Dominions and financial assistance to home producers is understood to have been the basis of discussion at a meeting of the meat conference at the colonial office. The discussions were described as friendly but vigorous and it is understood the plan, submitted by the United Kingdom government, fell of its own accord.

The conference is considering a revision of the meat clauses of the empire trade pacts which come up for review this year and are of concern to Australia, New Zealand and Southern Rhodesia but of no great interest to Canada. Canada is represented at the meeting, however, along with the Irish Free State.

It was suggested the British plan could be operated with the same sort of machinery provided in the wheat agreement inasmuch as it is based on the same principle, namely, an agreed restriction of exports by exporting countries. It would apply to mutton and lamb as well as beef.

The levy imposed on imported meat would be on a basis which would give the Dominions a 50 per cent. preference over foreign countries. Proceeds of the levy would be used to provide financial assistance for home producers.

It is understood the Dominions are not opposed to the imposition of a quota on their shipments but look upon the addition of the proposed levy as a very serious consideration. The quota itself would be serious enough, they claim, as it would involve a restriction of their exports to the figures used in discussions at the Ottawa imperial conference which have so far been far exceeded in practice.

Official circles regarded it as possible an agreement might be reached with the Argentine to provide for the quota and levy but the latter could only be effected by the Argentine agreeing to waive the preventative clause in last year's trade agreement between the two countries.

Before the next meeting of the conference the Dominions' representatives will seek the views of their governments on the latest British proposals.

NEW FEDERAL MEASURES SOON TO BE EFFECTIVE

Ottawa.—Cabinet council entered upon the task of building up the necessary machinery to carry out the involved proposals authorized by legislation at the parliamentary session just closed. The set-up of the marketing legislation, the farm debt relief scheme and the central bank will all be matters of immediate consideration.

It is understood that establishment of a central bank will be delayed only so long as it takes to secure men with the necessary qualifications to head it.

Undoubtedly, the first governor will be imported from Great Britain since it has been made clear on more than one occasion that it would be extremely difficult if not impossible to find a Canadian to fill the post.

It is possible, if a Canadian banker of the right type can be induced to head the new bank, he will be sent to London and other centres where central banks are in operation in order to study methods, so that the desire to keep the staff purely Canadian may be realized. R. Bennett will be imported from Great Britain since it has been made clear on more than one occasion that it would be extremely difficult if not impossible to find a Canadian to fill the post.

San Francisco Riots

Violent Battles Between Police And Strikers On Waterfront

San Francisco.—Violent battles raged on the San Francisco waterfront as strike pickets fought hand-to-hand over an area a mile square with police amid roaring blasts from pistols and riot guns and the blinding fumes from tear gas bombs.

Two of the strikers, seeking to enforce a blockade of the port of San Francisco—tied up since May 9 by a longshoremen's strike—fell mortally wounded. Thirty-one other persons were shot, and 38 more suffered gas and injuries requiring hospital or physicians' treatment.

Two thousand National Guardsmen, ordered by Governor Frank Merriam to safeguard state-owned property, moved upon the strike-front. The situation had quieted. A gutter near the strikers' headquarters ran red with blood as the two wounded strikers lay helpless until ambulances made their way through the streets.

Taking protection behind telephone poles, police opened fire directly at the strikers. Pickets a block away shouted threats and officers answered by blasts from their pistols and shotguns.

New Alberta Premier

Hon. R. G. Reid Succeeds Hon. J. E. Brownlee

Edmonton.—Member of the United Farmers of Alberta government since its formation in 1921, R. G. Reid, provincial treasurer and minister of lands and mines, has succeeded Hon. J. E. Brownlee as premier of Alberta.

Mr. Brownlee's retirement from the premiership carried with it resignation of his entire cabinet, and Mr. Reid indicated his new cabinet would be built around the old.

Mr. Reid will bring to the premier's office an alert knowledge of many government departments. At present he is provincial treasurer and minister of lands and mines. Previously he held portfolios of municipal affairs and health.

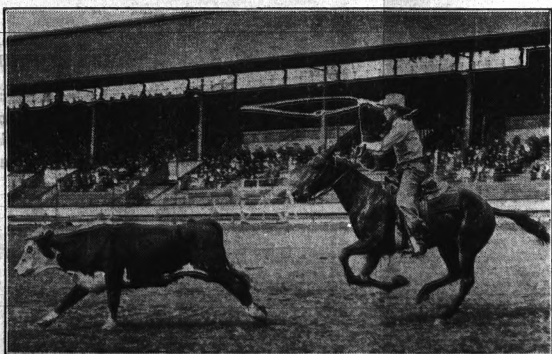

Protection Of London

Subways And Underground Railways Guarded Against Attacks

London.—Questions in the House of Commons on German preparations for bacteriological and other methods of warfare described by Wickham Steed in "The Nineteenth Century Review," Lord President of the Council Stanley Baldwin made guarded replies.

"I have seen allegations to the effect in a published article," he said, "but they have been officially denied by the German government."

Mr. Baldwin said the protection of subways and underground railways as well as aerial defence of the capital were in the care of special departments.

The famous White City, London, has been turned into a glorified round-up in which 100 cowboys and 15 cowgirls from Canada and the United States are playing prominent roles. The British promoters are staging a world's Rodeo Championship and above we see a competitor chasing a steer in the Breakaway Roping Contest.

THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

As the McMillan-Brownlee case is still in the courts at this writing, The Advocate does not propose to make any comment on it. There is, however, one point in connection with this case which has received a measure of publicity, and that is the publication in the daily newspapers of the province of many columns of the evidence given in the court, together with, in some cases, comment thereon. Mr. Justice Ives, sitting on the case, called the publisher and one of the staff of the Edmonton Bulletin before him and fined them $300 and $100 respectively for contempt of court, which the judge stated was committed in the report of the court proceedings published in the Bulletin. The Bulletin is appealing the cases.

The Advocate is a strong believer in the freedom of the press, which is one of the strongest factors in maintaining an informed public opinion. In spite of this belief, The Advocate does not consider that the reporting of the evidence in detail in cases involving sexual relations, either alleged or actual, is a proper function of a newspaper. Nor does it consider that the arising of legislation making it an offence to publish such evidence would be an injustice.

In England a few years ago, the evidence published in some of the newspapers in a divorce case was so objectionable that legislation was introduced in the British House of Commons rigidly defining what matter could be published in such cases. The reports there are now confined to the names of the people concerned, the witnesses, the judgment and very little else, if memory serves.

Federal legislation might well be introduced governing the reporting of cases involving sexual relations, alleged or actual, without infringing on the real freedom of the press. The people do not need, nor do they want to have such detailed accounts of the evidence as they got in the daily papers last week.—Red Deer Advocate.

THESE TWO-LEGGED GROWLERS

In Calgary, a few days ago, we stood on 8th avenue watching a one-legged window washer perform his work.

The street was filled with two-legged people, both on and off relief, hurrying up and down, grousing about business, growling about the weather, seeking whom "they might destroy."

This one-legged worker balanced himself by hooking the stump of his amputated leg over the handle bar of his crutch, leaving both hands free for his work.

Thus propped up on one leg and one crutch, he reached down to the pavement and scrubbed the gleaming wall of the shop he was cleaning. Tilting his crutch at an angle of forty-five degrees, he reached up three feet above his head and scoured the shining copper strip between the plate glass windows.

Stooping over with stump of a leg still hanging like a claw to the bar of the crutch, he wrung out his washing rags, wiped off the last film of moisture and then straightening up, still balanced on his crutch, he shook out his drying cloths and finished his job as quietly, as efficiently, as unconcerned as though one leg was not buried in some rubbish heap in Flanders.

How dexterously he balanced his body to stoop down and reach up, to do an expert job at window washing.

How easily and solidly he stood with his crutch leaning out as a brace to balance his body. It was a feat of agility worthy of a place in vaudeville; and yet it was a daily, hourly feat of his calling. He was earning his daily bread.

Walking away from the corner on two feet, the writer felt ashamed of the two-legged growlers of the world to whom this brave window washer carried no lesson, no message.—

CANADA'S DESTINY

(By I. W. C. Solloway)

"Canada Destiny," by I. W. C. Solloway, presents a programme of social progress for Canada which is neither conservative nor radical, but manages to strike a moderate forward note to which many Canadians will dash less resound. Solloway is probably putting in writing what many citizens already think in a more or less complete way.

He seeks a National Government free from party politics, and vision; a more business-like and patriotic administration of government, the country's biggest and most important business, and would have it permeated with a genuine social consciousness. Amongst other things, he deplores the existing situation of 10 parliaments and more than 1,500 representatives legislating for less than 10 million people, and also draining the resources of the taxpayers with excessive armies of civil servants.

He is trying to "sell" the Canadian people economic nationalism for Canada, believing it to be the right policy to give our own people every encouragement and chance to develop their own resources and abilities, by penalizing the outsider and by stemming the flow of Canadian capital to foreign markets. He feels that we cannot avoid it, and that the sooner we have it there will be a return of prosperity. Development of our gold and oil resources alone, he claims, would soon more than offset the national debt.

A strong advocate of unemployment insurance, he contends that this socialistic doctrine is really the essential safety-latch for capitalism, and a guarantee of its existence and further progress, as already demonstrated in Great Britain. It is not even charity, he argues, but good business for all concerned, to abolish the present system of direct relief and put in its place a planned system of contributory insurance.

He is in favor of a National Stock Exchange and a considerable reorganization of our present brokerage and stock exchange methods. He condemns Wheat Pools as instruments that created false values and led to their own undoing, and sketches a changed farm policy and philosophy.

One of the features of his book concerns the liquor business. He argues that under government control worse and cheaper brands of liquor are sold than before, and also deplores the manufacture and sale of synthetic beer, instead of beer made with malt and hops, and naturally aged.

He says that he is not presenting a cut-and-dried plan for changing Canada, but a lot of random thoughts to inspire discussion of value to public men in developing a better national policy. Nor does he make any pretence at offering an academic treatise. Where the book will lead to is on the lap of the gods, but at least it is certain that it will inspire the discussion aimed at, and that it will find numerous points of intimate sympathy and understanding in Canadian minds. Many novel and piquant thoughts make the work of unusual reader-interest.

She: "Well, of all things! How much?"
He: "Two pints."

Here and There

S. S. Empress of Japan arrived at Victoria recently with one of the largest passenger lists in the past three years. There was a total of 577 from the Orient and Honolulu. The liner was also lavishly booked for the westbound trip from Vancouver and Victoria.

Speaking at Toronto recently before members of the International Building Owners and Managers Association, E. W. Beatty, K.C., chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, doubted the wisdom of "too elaborate planning" in national economics. Mr. Beatty did not think the present system of society was wrong, except in the "way in which it is applied."

The Canadian Pacific Railway will celebrate the fifth anniversary of the completion of its transcontinental line next year. It was November 7, 1929 that Donald A. Smith, later Lord Strathcona, drove the last spike at Trail, B.C., joining east to west and Atlantic to Pacific.

Hon. Charles A. Dunning, vice-president and general manager of the Seaboard Club, Montreal, Quebec, has been elected a director of Barclay's Bank, Canada. The former Federal Minister of Finance is also president of the Ontario Equitable Life Insurance Company.

After one of the most remarkable and successful meetings ever held by a religious body, the Oxford Group left the Banff Springs Hotel for the East. Many of them called from Quebec by S.S. Empress of Australia for Euclypt. The next house party will be held at Oxford July 1-14.

Speaking at the Admiral Beatty Hotel, Saint John, N.S., William Clark, British High Commissioner to Canada, claimed that the real course of Canada's troubles in connection with marketing agricultural produce lay in the un-economic expansion of agricultural production by industrial countries, especially some of the larger European countries which are normally importers.

Musie, moonlight, glorious late breezes with 500 miles of sailing on the Canadian Pacific's Great Lakes ships Astor, Togo, and Manitoba are at the disposal of passengers on the company's line this summer at low cost. The offer promises to be very alluring to Canadians and visitors to the Dominion as well.

Quebec Province is alive with festivity, celebrating the events of this year marking the anniversaries of some of the most memorable events in its history. Among them and the most important is the 400th anniversary of the discovery of Canada by Jacques Cartier in July 1534.

A Mediterranean-Africa-South America cruise in the 22,800-ton liner Empress of Australia, visiting 24 ports in the Mediterranean, Palestine, Egypt, East and South Africa, South America and the West Indies will be operated next winter. It is announced by the Canadian Pacific. The cruise will take 96 days, leaving New York January 18, 1935 and returning there April 21.

QUESTION FOR COMMUNISTS

Henry Gold, from the neighboring town of Delia, is going to debate against Russian Communism. His opponent has travelled in Russia and apparently is enamored of the regime in that far country.

We think the debate a waste of time and energy. Communism as practised in Russia will never appeal with any force to people of Anglo-Saxon stock.

One doesn't have to travel in Russia to know what is going on. Communications have been so perfected that the entire world is a vast sounding board and one can find out just what is going on in Russia if he so desires.

Of course Communists say "It's the capitalist press that misrepresents things," but where would you find a fairer writer than Walter Duranty, Russian correspondent for the New York Times? Duranty tells some plain truths!

What happened to the Russian livestock industry and how is it that there is only about 60 per cent of the number of horses in that country compared to ten years ago?

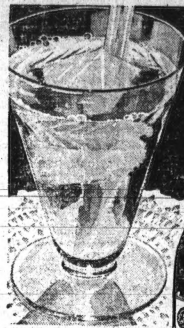

How is it that starvation was rampant in Russia a little over a year ago, and yet the government shipped wheat out of the country?

What has happened to the grandiose "five year plan?" Where are all the vast quantities of machinery that was to be turned out?

What is the price of bread in Russia in roubles and in Canadian cents? Is it true that Canadian unemployed

Penny Wise

A penny saved is not always a penny earned. Sometimes it is two pennies lost. The merchant who spends nothing on advertising is practising false economy; his losses in sales far exceed the pennies saved.

The money spent for plate glass windows is not looked on as lost; nor is the money spent on better interior lighting.

Anything that increases favor, that adds to sales, that multiplies customers is very properly regarded as a good investment.

Advertising is a good investment—just as plate glass windows are. Advertising is the plate glass window the merchant can send into every home. Advertising sells more goods to more persons than shop-windows do.

THE BARKEEPER'S CHARGE

My good fellow, you are now within a rum palace. Here wisdom and virtue are shut out. You are separated from the consoling pleasures of religion, and are about to unite with those who love folly and danger, and despise liberty and happy leisure. Of those who surround you some are sunk in dreadful poverty and dependence; some hover on the borders of insanity; some have become incurably corrupt; they are too weak-minded to refuse my invitation, while others enter with no other object than to escape the miseries of solitude. Before you can unite with them you must swallow this dram of delicious poison. Drink heartily. Good liquor will kill the seeds of virtue before they sprout; it will destroy all germs of piety, smother the embryonic principles of morality under the pressure of gluttony, laziness and disease, and neither be satisfied nor expelled. Look around you and behold the effects of strong drink. That blubbery idiot sprawling on the pool table is but a sample of what you soon may become. Like you he began with one drink. He was seized, as you are now seized, with a restless curiosity to examine the so-called pleasures of the wine room, and for a while he drank with caution. But alas, little by little he lost the power of self-control, the poison corrupted his blood and paralyzed his brain, so that he is no longer master of his appetite, but the slave. He was bred a scholar. He once entertained his friends with profusion, enjoyed the conversation of cultured men and brilliant women, and was pointed out as a man who would make a stir in the world before he left it. But now nothing remains of his former activity, and he is as well lost to the world as though he were sunk in the grave, or buried in a dungeon. I present you with this bottle. Drink it regularly. It will strip you of happiness and prosperity; misfortune will be painted upon your face, and your honest intentions and laudable ambitions will become as dim as last year's dream. Within the walls of the bar room we meet for mutual debauchery, the propagation of vicious folly, and the degradation of human character. Here grudges and private quarrels assert their wild dominion and afflict the heart with wounds that never heal. Drink! and let the innocent pleasures of the past fade from your memory. Drink! and reap the penalties of indiscretion, which are poverty, disgrace and imbecility.—E.S.

A NEW BLOOD BROTHER

Frank Buckman, leader of the Oxford group, was made a full brother of an Indian tribe the other week. Whether it was the StORIES or the SAREES we don't recall, but Mr. Buckman is now a tribal affiliate. Usually the custom is to make notable visitors Indian chiefs. Maybe Mr. Buckman had not the degree of notability to qualify for chieftainship, but he is certainly a full-fledged "brave".

We doubt if Mr. Buckman will try to make converts for the Oxford movement out of his new "brethren" and sisters. The reserve Indian does not fit gracefully into a dress suit nor into the surroundings that go with

Brief Career For Society

National Anti-Scandal Idea Did Not Last Long

A brief obituary notice in the London Times tells of the death of an idea as well as of a man. A few years ago the Rev. Frank Melville, vicar of Exhall, founded the National Anti-Scandal Society, which almost immediately had a countrywide membership. Its members received a badge bearing a likeness of the three wise monkeys and the legend, "Speak no evil, see no evil, and hear no evil." At its most vigorous period the society's membership could be counted only in the hundreds, but it was made up of enthusiasts. Why did it dwindle away and come to nothing in just a few years? It is asked by a writer. The Times observes that Mr. Melville was "noted for his outspoken views and his humor."

The Nerviest Insect

Thieving Cockroaches Give Trouble In New York Zoo

Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, the great New York expert on snakes, has made the discovery that the cockroach is one of the boldest thieves in the animal kingdom. This nervy insect will eat the skin right off the biggest snake in any zoo. When the zoo snakes shed their skins, the keepers save them up for the natural history classes in the schools. Naturally they like to get these skins whole and in perfect condition. But because of audacious and voracious cockroaches the skins often look like something the moths have been at. But Ditmars has chemically treated the thieving cockroaches by feeding built-up frogs as sentries around the snake cages during the skin-shedding season. There isn't a cockroach in the world that is active and smart enough to get past a hungry built-up frog—Toronto Star.

Praise For Canadian Nurses

Have High Reputation In Britain And Are Well Known

A tribute was paid to Canadian nurses by Miss Edith Rome, interviewed at Montreal on her way to attend the Canadian Nursing Association convention in Toronto. Miss Rome said that Canadian nurses have a high reputation in Britain, where they have become known through the constantly increasing interchange of nurses.
The standards of nursing in Canada and Britain, Miss Rome remarked, are much higher than those of some countries of Europe, where nursing is a very new thing as yet. The proposed founding of a Florence Nightingale scholarship was referred to by Miss Rome, who expressed the hope that some Canadian nurses would compete for and win it.

Little Journeys In Science

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

The story of how a young German scientist discovered a valuable insecticide is most interesting. In 1874 Japan, in the 17th century, a Japanese nobleman's daughter was being married, and to this celebration was invited a young German scientist.

It was the usual Japanese custom of those days to decorate each room entirely with one kind of flower or blossom. In one room the young scientist observed that no insects were flying around, and that the floor was strewn with dead flies, ants and other typical summer pests. This room was decorated with a flower somewhat like our ordinary field daisy. The young German found that this flower was known as the pyrethrum and that it grew in abundance on his host's estate.

Permission was obtained to take a few of these flowers to his laboratory. After many experiments with pyrethrum and similar flowers, he discovered that the scent given off by them killed insects and other creeping pests, but was harmless to humans. His discovery has been of great value to all nations in the everlasting war against insect pests. To-day this little "field daisy" is widely cultivated in Japan, and its blossoms, compressed and packed in bales, are shipped to all parts of the world to be used in the manufacture of insect powder, which is used chiefly in the home.

About the most helpless thing on earth is an automobile seven miles from a filling station with its gasoline tank run dry.

Bureau Of Research Suggested

Okanagan Member Lays Plan Before B.C. Government

Creation of a provincial research institute for scientific investigation of modern and by product trends in all industry, and more particularly to develop outlets for the basic primary products of British Columbia, is being suggested to the provincial government at Victoria, B.C., by Dr. J. Allen Harris, M.L.A., South Okanagan, himself a research chemist.

Dr. Harris suggests that a modest start be made with the plan, to supplement what already is being done in the way of scientific research in B.C. industry. In accommodation at the University of British Columbia, without the expense of new building, he proposes that the province launch the nucleus of a provincial research institute, which would be wholly apart from student activities at the university.

Started in just such a way the Mellon Institute in the United States was quickly subsidized by private industries, and has since proved of supreme importance to the business life of that country.

GOD CARES FOR ELIJAH

Golden Text: "Your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of such things." Matthew 6:32.
Lesson: I. Kings 17:1-24; 19:1-8.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 23.

Explanations and Comments

Elijah Predicts a Drought, 17:1. Elijah the Tishbite, that is, a native of Tishbe, a member of the tribe of Naphtali who dwelt for a time in Gilead, now appears. In 2 K. 1:8 he is described as a hairy man, girt with a girdle of leather about his loins. His name is composed of Eli, meaning my God, and Jah, the short form of Jehovah. "My God is Jehovah" the same suits him. It grew out of him like his shaggy beard, for he spent his life recalling the faithless people from the false worship of Baal to the true worship of Jehovah the living God (Charles R. Brown). Ahab was the king at this time of whom it is said (I K. 16:30) that "he did that which was evil in the sight of Jehovah above all that were before him." Elijah suddenly appeared before the king. "Ahab is the proud and arrogant monarch of his day, absolute monarch, possessing the power of life and death. At his side is Jezabel, who is as much more ambitious than her husband as Lady Macbeth is more ambitious than Macbeth. The prophet stands before them. In the point of fact, he is more conscious of standing before God. In the consciousness of God's presence in the prophet's sense of courage" (Allerton).

Elijah told Ahab that a long drought was coming upon the land as a punishment from God for his sins. See I Kings 16:32. "As Jehovah, the God of Israel, liveth," Elijah solemnly affirmed, making use of the customary form of an oath, "before whom I stand, that is, whose servant I am, there shall not be dew nor rain these years." Without dew or rain the crops would wither. The hand of God was especially recognized in those days in the giving or withholding of the rains. The drought would be of long duration and would cease only at His word, Elijah declared.

Elijah Fed by Ravens at the Brook Cherith, 17:2-7. The word of Jehovah came unto Elijah, saying: "Thine phrase and kindred others, such as 'Thus saith Jehovah,' 'Jehovah spake,' occur two thousand times in the Bible. The phrases are familiar formulas of all the prophets, and express their sincere conviction that they were speaking or acting in accordance with the will of God as revealed to them through mental impulses or 'by divers portions and in divers manners.' 'Get thee hence'—to avoid the wrath of Ahab and Jezabel, for Ahab was seeking him everywhere, I K. 18:10, was the direction Elijah received, 'and hide by the brook Cherith east of the Jordan,' where there were convenient caves. 'I have commanded the ravens that they bring thee bread there.' 'All circumstances are the voice of God, commanding or restraining' (Alexander MacLaren). Those who have watched the habits of large birds bear witness to the large supply which they bring to their nests.

Did Elijah kill and eat the ravens, or did he claim some of their prey for his own sustenance? Some scholars think that instead of ravens we should change a single vowel in the Hebrew and have the Hebrew word for Arabs, and others explain that merchants are meant. Whether the writer of the stories about Elijah intended the statements which read like miracles to be understood literally, or as poetical, pictorial statements of facts, each one must judge for himself.

Japan's New Submarine

The Japanese Navy's new submarine, the I-70, has been launched. The new vessel has a displacement of 1,638 tons. Its engines of 6,000 horsepower will propel it at a surface speed of nineteen knots. Before the launching of the I-70 Japan's submarine tonnage was given as 72,294, well over the 52,700 ton limit imposed by the London naval treaty.

Small But Effective

The parliament of the Isle of Man has just brought in its budget showing a surplus of $320,000 where only $25,000 has been estimated. The practical result is a reduction of the income tax rate from ten pence on the pound to eight pence.

Agricultural Notes

Many Items Of Interest To The Western Farmer

The Canada thistle is not native to Canada. It was introduced originally from Europe.

All forms of nitrogenous manure increase the growth of grass at the expense of clover.

Nitrogen, while stimulating plant growth, soon loses its power unless fortified sufficiently with phosphates and potash, particularly the former. Losses of fertility from farm manures may be prevented by the use of litter, watertight floors, covered manure pits, and by getting the manure into the land as quickly as possible.

In relation to grassland, its creation, management, and fertilization, efficient and highly systematic research has done much during the past few years to add to human knowledge and to the profits of the pastoralist.

The use of seaweed as a fertilizer dates back to historic times, and its value for the upkeep of soil fertility has been generally and practically recognized both in the old world and in the new by farmers residing not too far distant from the coast line.

One hundred and eleven pounds of vernal grass seed and four pounds of rhubarb seed from the British Isles, and 122 pounds of flax and seven pounds of rhubarb seed from the United States were imported into Canada during the year ended June 1, 1934.

Sheep help to suppress the wild carrot in pasture lands. This weed is best kept in check by the regular rotation of crops with thorough cultivation. It is spreading in the clover seed, starchy and essential oils, and is a nuisance along roadsides, waste places and old meadows.

Agricultural research has demonstrated that young herbage, besides being a rich storehouse of proteins, sugars, starches and essential oils, contains carotene which in the body of an animal produces vitamin A. This vitamin promotes growth in farm stock as well as in human beings, and enables them to resist disease.

"I know precisely that for every object, whether to bring the weeds and quick grass to the surface and to wither them by scorching heat, or to expose the earth itself to the sun's baking rays, there can be nothing better than to plough the soil up with a pair of oxen during midday in summer—Xenophon in his book 'The Economist', 434-335 B.C.

There is, finally, one form of economic work essential to the rapid, confident, and accurate extension of scientific research, and consequently to industrial prosperity, based upon its practical application, and that is sympathetic co-operation and loyal teamwork between research workers themselves, whether they belong to the same or different institutions or organizations.—Lord Bledisloe.

Britain's Public Men

Versatility Is Quality That Makes Them Successful

Britain is truly blessed in the character of her public men, in her ambassadors and representatives abroad. Sir William Clark was not merely a trained civil servant with a grasp of trade and economics. He was a cultured man of the world with a civilized mind, one who was as much at home as he was happy in discussing the poets as in analyzing the latest statistics on the export of lumber. That quality, the quality of many-sidedness, of versatility—it is the English conception of education—appears to be the thing which makes the Englishman so successful.

Sir William Clark goes to South Africa, to occupy the post that he held here. In that great field of duty and responsibility Canadians will wish for him all the success and prosperity his talents can hardly fail to win.—Ottawa Journal.

The new railway depot at Kington, Middlesex, England, is built of brightly-colored enameled metal. Stainless steel figures largely in the fittings and the platform is flood-lighted.
